We Dhwani – the Music Society of Lady Irwin College, firmly believe that Music's prime notion is teamwork and inclusion of all. With consistent hard work, team collaboration, and fun sessions, we make music that has no boundaries. Dhwani aims at nurturing musical skills in all its members by actively involving them in learning different forms of music and providing them the right platform to showcase their talent and musical skills.

We learn and produce different forms of music, Indian Classical Music and Western Acapella, with the guidance of eminent vocalists and coaches, and with the collaborative efforts and brainstorming of students who love music. We focus on enhancing tonal quality, expression, and voice modulation.

Every year more than 70 newcomers register for being part of Team Dhwani, and with multi-staged auditions and training, we welcome the new members to continue the legacy of Dhwani's music-making.

Our Annual Cultural Music Fest - RHYTHHAR is a pivot attraction event, where various colleges of the University of Delhi and other universities take part. This year, amidst the raging pandemic, we hosted many musical events under the umbrella of Rhythhar'21 like "Saaz" for Solo Instrumental, "Noori" for Solo Classical Singing Competition and "Cantabile" for Solo Western Singing Competition.

Music is a subject of celebration of spirituality and when it comes to BASANT PANCHAMI, the zeal becomes double. For the first time, we hosted a very special event at this auspicious occasion to celebrate Music and Goddess Saraswati. This online live concert focused on indigenous performances by members of Dhwani – the Music Society.

Team Dhwani also actively participates in various Inter College Competitions and has won many awards and prizes as a choir and also at the individual level.
