Street Theatre or Streetplay is a theatrical expression to spread awareness about social and political issues. Streetplay is not just about acting, here we learn various forms of art such as singing, creative writing, art, dance etc are inculcated within the artists. Akaar- The Streetplay Society of Lady Irwin College aims to shape society by voicing uncommon issues amongst common people. We bring focus on the which are barely even deemed as issue in the society because of stigma. We prepare an annual production every year. A social issue is selected and primary and secondary research on ground level is done with collection of real time statistics and facts. The research is then put forward in the form of an annual production, which is then performed in colleges in and around Delhi and on nook and corners of public areas to amplify the reach of our voices. Our annual festival YATHARTH provides the opportunity to other colleges to put forward their efforts and voices in front of an esteemed panel of experienced judges. All in all, Akaar aims to bring the change that this world needs and spread awareness regarding issues that need to be voiced, and reach everyone in the best way possible.
