

Name: Ms. Mitali Yadav

Designation: Assistant Professor

Email id: mitaliyadav2@gmail.com, mitali.yadav@lic.du.ac.in

Educational Qualifications: M.Sc. (Resource Management & Design Application), University of Delhi

Research Areas: Solid waste management, Capacity building, Environment Management and Sustainable Development

Brief bio: She is Pursuing Ph.D. from Amity Institute of Environment Sciences, Amity University in the area of E-waste Management. She has completed her Post Graduation in Resource Management & Design Application specialization in Environment Management & Sustainable Development from Lady Irwin College, University of Delhi. She has been awarded the university gold medal for securing highest marks in post-graduation in 2017. She has more than six years of Industry and teaching experience. She has been involved in various projects includes Eco- Innovation- A youth initiative towards sustainable consumption of paper, DU innovation Project (Designing Solar Engineered products for the Rural Population), Segregation of Organic Waste for Recycling and Treatment Project and Paper bag maker training, an initiative by Skill hub India under Pradhan mantra Kaushal Vikas yojana 2.0 and Ministry of Skill and entrepreneurship. During her due course of academic experience she has taken wide range of subjects for both undergraduate and post graduate courses. She has published research papers in various refereed journals including the International Journal of Applied Home Science, International Journal of Home Science, and Journal of Emerging Technologies and Innovative Research.